

EN Activation

Windows 7 must be activated. If the computer is connected to the Internet, activation is normally performed automatically as soon as the "Product Key" is entered. If it is not possible to connect to the Internet or you have not yet entered the "Product Key", follow the steps below to activate your Windows 7 operating system manually.

1. Open the Start menu and then select "My Computer", "System Properties".

2. Scroll right down to the bottom of this screen to the "Windows Activation" section and click the blue link with the key icon.

3. The "Windows Activation" screen now opens. Follow the instructions on the screen.
